Attracter Flies on 1/64 oz - Double Eye – Hook

4/5/2020

Remember the 1/64 oz double eye hook?

I have asked a number of tiers, to tie their favorite attracter fly using my 1/64oz double eye hook. Take a picture of it and send it to me. Then take it fishing. Well the first to do it was Billy Shepherd of Waynesville, NC.

If the fly looks a little beat up that is because Billy took the picture after catching a number of fish with it.

The second picture I received was from Patti Hayes, Springfield, MO which she calls Medusa. She said maybe we could powder paint the lead, so I powder painted it to see how it would come out. Not hard to do.

Mike Swederska Sr., Sullivan, MO tied up a Great one and then made a YouTube video for it. Check it out –Trout Antaganizer.

Darrell Nelson, Tulsa, OK sent in the Blob. He fishes it at the Trout Parks.

Dave Tucker, Springfield, MO did an old favorite, dark olive woolly bugger with black body.

And Paul Sheppard, Branson, MO, sent in his Covid 19 Special. Boy that might be a killer. Only Paul would think of something like this.

The two I have tied is the Woolly Worm and naturally the Bed Spread fly. I do hope to see others. But I would like to add an editorial which Paul's fly remind me of.

Supporting Your Local Fly Shops – I am hoping during this period of being shut in that you are using up your materials, hooks and other fly tying supplies by tying a lot of flies. Make a list of the materials you are going to have to replace. Then as soon as we can get out – run to your local fly shop and spend money – I am sure they will appreciate the support and without having sales come in while they were close has to have hurt their business. Some of your local fly shops may have an active internet business set up and all you have to do is go on line and place the order and they will ship it out. But many do not offer that service. So they will need your support if they are to keep their doors open. Thanks for listening.

If you do not want to receive this and would like to be removed from my email, just let me know and I will remove you from my data base.
